

Secret Sunshine

Sunday, 29 October 2017 at 7:00pm

Lee Chang-dong | South Korea 2007 | 142 min | Korean with English subtitles

"An effortless mix of lightness and uncompromising darkness, Secret Sunshine (Miryang) stars Cannes best actress winner Jeon Do-yeon as a widowed piano teacher who moves with her young son from Seoul to her late husband's provincial hometown for a fresh start. Quietly expressive, supple filmmaking and sublime, subtle performances distinguish this remarkable portrayal of the search for grace amid tragedy." (Criterion)

Awards: Nominated Palme d'Or, winner Best Actress (Jeon Do-yeon), Cannes Film Festival 2007

Right Now, Wrong Then

Sunday, 5 November 2017 at 7:00pm

Hong Sang-soo | South Korea 2015 | 121 min | Korean with English subtitles

An hour-long love story, told twice – but with tiny variations that send each version on a dramatically different emotional course. It's a playfully structured, bluffly unglamorous romantic comedy of manners about a filmmaker (Jeong Jae-yeong) and a pretty young woman (Kim Min-hee), an artist he meets while killing time at a local temple. Its delicately doubled-up plots are a reminder that trivial differences are often anything but.

"Korean director Hong Sang-soo gives us two variations on one love story – both as elegant as they are emotional." (Robbie Collin, The Telegraph)

Contemporary South Korean Cinema

Secret Sunshine